

A DAY for families.
A MEMORY for all time.

WON'T YOU CONSIDER BEING PART OF THIS LIFE-CHANGING DAY?

Hosted by Warden Burl Cain, Louisiana State Penitentiary and Awana Clubs International.

Help Break the Cycle

Our great challenge is breaking the cycle of crime. The truth is that children of an incarcerated parent are seven times more likely than their peers to end up in prison themselves. You can play a part in breaking this cycle of crime.

Returning Hearts Celebration Sept. 8, 2007

Returning Hearts Celebration is a day of games, activities and a salvation message on the prison grounds in Angola, Louisiana. It's an opportunity for fathers in Angola and their children to reunite, soak in the gospel message and rejoice in the Lord. It's a time when fathers who may not have seen their children in years can share the gospel, ask for forgiveness and begin reconciliation with their daughters and sons.

This great day of renewal is only possible with your help. Volunteers are needed to help with chaperoning, transportation, games, food service and more. You could also serve in the special program for children's guardians. And you'll get a great reward—helping transform lives ... some for eternity.
